

- |     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-----|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1)  | $46,289 - 19,472 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2)  | $34,508 + 58,629 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 3)  | Draw an arrow to show where 2.78 would be on the number line below.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 4)  | What is the value of the angle X?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 5)  | What is the value of the 9 in this number?45.089                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 6)  | Convert $3\frac{1}{3}$ into an improper fraction.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 7)  | Convert $\frac{24}{5}$ into a mixed number.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 8)  | Write the next fraction in the sequence as an improper and mixed number fraction. $\frac{17}{4}$ $\frac{13}{4}$ $\frac{9}{4}$Improper fraction <table border="1" data-bbox="344 851 395 936" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> Mixed number <table border="1" data-bbox="619 851 724 936" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> |
| 9)  | Find $\frac{2}{5}$ of 40.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 10) | $4\frac{3}{4} + 2\frac{3}{4} =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

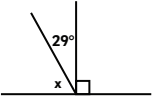

- |     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1)  | $46,289 - 19,472 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2)  | $34,508 + 58,629 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3)  | Draw an arrow to show where 2.78 would be on the number line below.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 4)  | What is the value of the angle X?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 5)  | What is the value of the 9 in this number?45.089                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 6)  | Convert $3\frac{1}{3}$ into an improper fraction.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 7)  | Convert $\frac{24}{5}$ into a mixed number.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8)  | Write the next fraction in the sequence as an improper and mixed number fraction. $\frac{17}{4}$ $\frac{13}{4}$ $\frac{9}{4}$Improper fraction <table border="1" data-bbox="1142 851 1193 936" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> Mixed number <table border="1" data-bbox="1417 851 1522 936" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> |
| 9)  | Find $\frac{2}{5}$ of 40.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 10) | $4\frac{3}{4} + 2\frac{3}{4} =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

- |     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1)  | $46,289 - 19,472 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2)  | $34,508 + 58,629 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3)  | Draw an arrow to show where 2.78 would be on the number line below.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 4)  | What is the value of the angle X?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 5)  | What is the value of the 9 in this number?45.089                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 6)  | Convert $3\frac{1}{3}$ into an improper fraction.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 7)  | Convert $\frac{24}{5}$ into a mixed number.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8)  | Write the next fraction in the sequence as an improper and mixed number fraction. $\frac{17}{4}$ $\frac{13}{4}$ $\frac{9}{4}$Improper fraction <table border="1" data-bbox="344 1971 395 2056" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> Mixed number <table border="1" data-bbox="619 1971 724 2056" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> |
| 9)  | Find $\frac{2}{5}$ of 40.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 10) | $4\frac{3}{4} + 2\frac{3}{4} =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

- |     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|-----|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1)  | $46,289 - 19,472 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 2)  | $34,508 + 58,629 =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 3)  | Draw an arrow to show where 2.78 would be on the number line below.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 4)  | What is the value of the angle X?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 5)  | What is the value of the 9 in this number?45.089                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 6)  | Convert $3\frac{1}{3}$ into an improper fraction.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 7)  | Convert $\frac{24}{5}$ into a mixed number.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 8)  | Write the next fraction in the sequence as an improper and mixed number fraction. $\frac{17}{4}$ $\frac{13}{4}$ $\frac{9}{4}$Improper fraction <table border="1" data-bbox="1142 1971 1193 2056" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> Mixed number <table border="1" data-bbox="1417 1971 1522 2056" style="display: inline-table; vertical-align: middle;"></table> |
| 9)  | Find $\frac{2}{5}$ of 40.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 10) | $4\frac{3}{4} + 2\frac{3}{4} =$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |